

Australian Disc Golf Annual Report 2016

2016 saw unprecedented numbers of courses installed around Australia. It is great to see our sport expanding into new areas and attracting new players.

After a change to the way the tour runs, for the first time the tour kicked off at the Australian Disc Golf Championships in Hobart. This event saw 84 competitors turn out on the slopes of Poimena. The new tour format allows the tour points to be calculated ahead of the ADGC which has the advantage of the winners being known ahead of time for the following year's Nationals and we can now host a tour award night.

The 2016 inductee to the Hall of Fame is Martin Ryland-Adair. Martin has been involved in all aspects of disc sports as a competitor at the highest level and also disc sports organisation, providing continuity to the board in his position as Treasurer for many years. We also created a new award, the Condor Award to recognise outstanding contributions to the development of disc golf in Australia. The inaugural winner, Andrew Ferguson, has been instrumental in the establishment of a large number of the courses installed this year as well running events and promoting disc golf in Australia. The disc golf community was honoured when Kim Holmes won the prestigious Rob Hancock award for 2016 from the AFDA, an award that recognises outstanding contributions to flying disc sports in Australia.

This year also saw the creation of a team event held in Canada by WFDF and PDGA. Sally Hill, Kingsley Flett, Dave Bandy and Patrick Robinson represented Australia at the event. The format included individual match play as well as doubles play. The team performed well with close matches against USA and NZ. They finished in 5th position.

The ADG grant program continued this year. We are happy to announce that 4 grants were awarded, for 3 new courses and a promotional event.

As the tour year comes to a close we say goodbye to several board members. Gavin Palmer, Kingsley Flett and Kris Kohout have all volunteered their time over the past year to help develop and coordinate this sport. It is also sad to say goodbye to outgoing Chairperson Neil Roberts. Neil has held the position since 2013 and been instrumental in the growth that we are enjoying.

2015/16 Australian Disc Golf Financial Report

The ADG financial year ran from the 1st September 2015 to 31st August 2016. As of the 31st August 2016 ADG held $11,055.61 in its bank accounts. This is compared to last year's financial position of $10091.35 as of 31st August 2015.

Event based fees are the major source of annual income for ADG. There was an increase in event based income when compared to last year. This year ADG event based fees amounted to $6733 as compared to $6042.2 last year. I note there are still some invoices awaiting payment and some to issue for this year.

We incurred costs of approximately $198.71 for complementary PDGA membership for the first place getters in each division of the 2015 ADG Tour.

We paid the entry fee of $1,100.68 for Team Australia to the PDGA/WFDF World Team Championships. We also collected donations and sold Hoodies to aid their trip.

The MOU between the AFDA and ADG continues. ADG has negotiated a rate of $1.10 per competitor for B and C tier tournaments, $2.20 per competitor for A-tier events and $3.30 per competitor for Australian Disc Golf Championships. These charges applied as of 1st January 2012 and are per event not per day. In 2015 we incurred costs of $1,641.9. We currently owe the AFDA $818.40 in 2016 Affiliation Fees which will be paid after ADGC 2016, where upon I would expect the amount owed to be closer to $1,600.

GEELONG DISC GOLF CLUB

The GDGC have had a successful result through grant submission receiving a $2000 grant from City of Greater Geelong and a $2000 grant from Geelong Connected Community. This money as well as money raised through successful Bunnings sausage sizzles was enough to purchase the club 9 new portable baskets for the 2016/2017 Pop Up Disc Golf event series. The club is eager for the third Pop Up event to take place on their last league day of the year (Rudolph Riot).

The GDGC hosted 2 events this year outside their regular Chainlinks Series, the South West Classic and also Discraft Ace Race which saw a great turnout for both events. The South West Classic was TD'd by Hank Terpstra. This was the second year in a row Hank had organized this event and was a very successful day. 2016 Ace race was also another successful event for the GDGC with 39 players including interstate players who travelled to Geelong for the event which shows a great respect for us as a club.

A few other highlights for the club this year

- Strong representations by the GDGC in Interstate events on the tour this year - (Australian Champs, ACT Open, Perth Open, SA Open, Gold Coast Classic, NSW Open), which saw in each division GDGC members in the top places and bringing home victory.
- Patrick Robinson represented Australia and GDGC in the World Teams event.
- Wangaratta course installed and local Frisbee group organized and ran small event in which a GDGC member won
- GDGC participated in Golf month in October.

GDGC are looking forward to 2017 to continue their Pop Up series event and also host the 10th Victorian Disc Golf Open. This event is one that no-one wants to miss and the club can't wait to show you how hard they have been working to make this, one of the best events on the tour calendar next year!!

MELBOURNE DISC GOLF CLUB

The MDGC have had a great year playing and promoting Disc Golf in Victoria. Early in the year the club was part of the Live Wellington festival in Sale Victoria. They set up a short course which they took the locals through and ran a putting competition and skills training. Disc golf was well received by the community and the council is currently pursuing the possibility of a permanent course in the area.

MDGC hosted 3 ADG tournaments in 2016. The first was the 9th Vic Open which was played over 3 days on the Ruffey Lake championship course. The tournament organizers decided to try something new for this tournament. The tournament was played over three days using a flexi-format. There were 4 rounds throughout the weekend and the amateur divisions had some flexibility around which 3 rounds they played. This was designed to allow more players to be able to complete three full rounds. The feedback on the format was mixed but there was no argument that the tournament was well organized and a lot of fun on a challenging course. The second tournament was the Kingston City Classic which was held at Braeside Park and was the first tournament ever to be held in the City of Kingston. There are several MDGC members from this area and they are on a mission to get a local course installed. The KCC was designed to raise the awareness of Disc Golf in this area. It was successful in this respect with a very large number of novice players involved and the City of Kingston Mayor opening the event. The third and final event is the Melbourne Cup which is scheduled for the 19th of November and is sure to be another great event. The MDGC was sad to say good bye to Cameron Ford and Dennis Ladwig over the past year. They were both friendly and dedicated members who will be missed. Our loss is Queensland's gain as they have both defected to the north. Never the less, the club is still thriving with other members stepping up and some new members who are sure to help make 2017 a fantastic year.

Tournaments

- 4-Up on Juan – Upjohn Park, Rydalmere, 17 April
- Women’s Global Event – Koala Park, Colongra, 15 May
- Prison Break – Newington Armory, 21 Aug
- Jesmond Jam – Jesmond Park, Jesmond, 9 October
- NSW Open – Foreshore Park, Jindabyne, 29-30 October
- Australian Disc Golf Championships – Newington Armory, Sydney Olympic Park, 25-27 November

Development

Four new permanent courses have been established this year:

- Adventist Alpine Village DiscGolfPark, Jindabyne – Situated on the beautiful grounds of the Adventist Alpine Village, this course consists of 18 tees shooting to nine baskets. With elevation, large old growth trees bordering the more open fairways and smaller eucalyptus which form some tight fairways, DiscGolfPark have created a course to engage and challenge both beginner and advanced players. This course is pay-to-play.
- Bicentennial Gardens DiscGolfPark, Ballina – This is the first disc golf course in the Northern Rivers region of New South Wales. Lush fairways draw players through the course as they avoid the many water hazards and thick rough. With enthusiastic locals and a willing council, DiscGolfPark have developed a course just down the road from the major tourist destination of Byron Bay.

- Coolangatta Estate Disc Golf, Shoal Haven Heads – This nine hole disc golf course utilises a retired traditional golf course taking advantage of existing vegetation, rolling green foothills and ponds. Located on the ground of Coolangatta Estate, the site is alive with history with the village consisting of original convict-built cottages, now surrounded by sprawling vineyards and is nearby to another major tourist destination. This course is pay-to-play.
- Dubbo Disc Golf Course, Sandy Beach, Dubbo – The first three holes of this course were personally funded by local disc golf enthusiast Kevin Rugg with the plan to recover the cost through sponsorship and grants. Council soon jumped on board to add another six baskets making it a nine hole course with a dual-tee setup to introduce beginners and challenge the more advanced. It is hoped that in the near future it will be expanded to 18 baskets. The course has one minor elevation area affecting a number of holes but plays mainly through new growth trees with a mix of tight and sparse fairways along the Macquarie River. This course will be the host of the 2017 NSW Open.

Regular league days continue to run in the Newcastle and Sydney clubs while community social rounds are occurring around the state in places like Jindabyne, Ballina and Dubbo.

Future Possibilities

This year we have had a number of contacts from community groups keen to establish disc golf in their area including the Woollongong/Illawarra area and Armidale where locals have set up their own object course.

SA State Report

2016 has been one of huge growth for South Australia with the installation of a public free to play course in Tintinara and the installation of a course on a private property ("Meldanda") in Cambrai, one hour north east of Adelaide. Significant progress has also been made in terms of finding a suitable location for Adelaide's first permanent course. SA Disc Golf were present at both the Belair and Parra Wirra National Park open days where over 150 people gave disc golf a go and has opened the door for ongoing cooperation with the National Parks department. There have also been discussions with the Adelaide Council regarding potential for a course in the beautiful Adelaide Parklands.

A 9 basket course, designed by Andrew Ferguson and Chris Finn of DiscGolfPark Australia, was installed by the Tintinara Action Club, Tintinara Men's Shed and Coorong District Council in the Lake Indawarra area of Tintinara. The course is well situated for travellers between Melbourne and Adelaide and is of a good length for community use with the space adaptable enough for tournament play. A private course was also installed at Meldanda, an educational facility owned and operated by Cambrai Area School. The 9 baskets were originally donated and installed by scouts using the camp facilities but had been uninstalled and unused until SA Disc Golf attended and completed a redesign.

The South Australian Open was held in May at the new permanent course in Tintinara. Over 20 competitors battled it out and Victoria completed a clean sweep of all divisions.

Mid 2016 saw the departure of Ryan Rosner, a stalwart of the development of disc golf in Adelaide, return home to his native Canada and Luke Turnbull return to his home state of NSW. Andrew Simpson took over the reins with the assistance of new arrival, Todd Brooks. Todd has been integral o connecting with SA Ultimate players, which has lead to new avenues to grow the sport. We setup a 9-hole course in the Adelaide Parklands at the Ultimate Social League grand final, which for many ultimate players was their first chance to play disc golf. The Flinders Ultimate group have been especially keen to host more disc golf events since then and we look forward to continuing this collaborative co-operation.

Andrew showed his true commitment to the sport in July when he went to Norway to marry his beautiful wife Ingrid; the wedding was hosted at a disc golf course none-the-less! Fortunately he had enough time to play some of the local courses too.

Things are starting to heat up in South Australia and a permanent course within 30 mins of the CBD is looking more and more likely for 2017, including exciting proposals at Belair National Park and Campbelltown Council area so stay tuned for updates!

The South Australian Open returns to Tintinara in 2017 and we're aiming to push close to double the attendance of this year. Lock in flights for the weekend of 20/21 May 2017!

QLD State Reports

Disc Golf in Queensland has shown slow but steady growth during the last few years and 2016 has been no exception.

While there has not been the growth in permanent courses as seen in other states this year, a new course in Ipswich has been a welcome addition to the list and for the locals, with Council interested in further development of the sport. The use of temporary courses for tournaments however, has enabled us to utilise existing parks and courses better and garner interest in the upgrading of substandard baskets to competition standard.

This year's list of events, including two A-Tiers and multiple B-Tier events all showed strong growth in player numbers with attendance records being set for The Qld Champs, The Gold Coast Classic and the recently held Pine Rivers Champs. This is on the back of a thriving monthly league day held in Brisbane during the year, where average attendance was up, as too were total player numbers.

Clubs continue to form organically around interested players in various locations around the state, including the Gold Coast, Logan City, Ipswich, The Sunshine Coast, and Granite Mountain (Stanthorpe), creating a network of local interest in the sport that bodes well for further growth. In addition, Queensland Disc Golf Inc., a state level association aimed at promoting the sport within the state, was formed and officially incorporated during the year, thereby breaking the long held ties to Queensland Ultimate (formerly QUDA), who used to represent all disc sports within Queensland.

WA State report

The landscape of the sport in our state changed profoundly in 2016. The number of disc golf courses in the metropolitan area has more than doubled. When you consider the 'Rob Hancock effect' of so many influential people in the sport and life-long disc golfers coming from just one course in the community, we look forward to what growth Spearwood, Chichester, Vic Park and Beaconsfield might generate in the coming years.

The consolidation of the Mundaring Club along with the continued expansion of the Perth Disc Golf Club has meant that disc golfers in Perth now select from a packed calendar of events all year around. Here's a summary of the activities of both clubs.

Perth Disc Golf Club

It's always been the way of the PDGC to attract and develop strong contributors. This year we were pleased to have 3 first time TD's (Keenan Vellios, Al Robertson and Ken Summers), along with two 2nd timers (Chloe Rizzi and Arana Kenyon) join our experienced band of organisers.

League Days. In its 6th year in the current format. The regular monthly (March-Dec) league has continued to grow.

From 2013, when we switched to the more popular Sunday afternoon timeslot, the number of people playing League has risen by 18% (from 59 to 70). We had some bad luck with public holiday and sporting event clashes in 2015 which explains the drop to 49 that year. More telling is the over 70% rise in number of league days played – effectively this is a measure of retention.

Attracting new people to the game is just one part of the growth equation; retaining them is the other. By providing a consistent competitive, yet social, environment with the right incentive structure, we believe the club is assisting the second part of the growth equation here. Most new disc golfers are introduced to the sport by a friend, not by a promotional activity (come and try days etc), so we feel this philosophy as actually contributing to both sides of the equation.

The club has been grateful for the assistance of Rick Penlington in automating our league handicap results; so a crucial part of the incentive process can be now delivered more easily.

Putting League. A new initiative from David Bandy this year has been our Tuesday Night Putting League. The random selection, round-robin format has been popular with club members and we've averaged over 12 for each night. Should become even more popular over summer.

Lord of The Disc (26th March 2016, 32 players)- This tournament is a single disc, 9 hole day round followed by dinner and an 18-hole night round with LED-lit discs and baskets. It's a very popular event that bridges the gap between social and competitive play for most people and has become a fixture on the calendar.

Women's Global Event (14th May, 21 players)- The PDGC have participated in every PDGA Women's Global Event ran to date. This year the event was held at the Curtin University course. All participating Women's scores are rated and ranked globally. Part of the tradition has been for the guys to show their support by dressing in ladies clothes for the event. There were some tasteful ensembles on display and there were some out-and-out crimes against fashion.

Perth Open 2016 (17-19th June, 60 players)

View from the top of "Deep Throw", Pine Lines, Gidgegannup

The Perth Open this year was held in June for the final time at Keenan Vellios' private course, Pine Lines at Gidgegannup. The 'Pine Lines' era is one that we'll look back on proudly as a time where we developed the bonds that will serve our sport for many years. The 'Pine Lines Experience' is a special memory for those that have been lucky enough to have it. The PDGC is grateful to the Vellios family, especially Keenan and George, for their generosity and hard work. We look forward to seeing the monster 27 hole layout that Keenan is now building.

Rob Hancock Memorial Tournament (28th August, 48 players)

Kim Holmes being presented with the Rob Hancock Award by Sam Hancock

August saw new TD Ken Summers, take the reins for this year's Rob Hancock Memorial. It was a great day of disc golf, discathon and freestyle, with a lot of the old and bold of disc sports in attendance. This tournament was established to honour our WA disc sports heritage and to remember Rob Hancock.

Kim Holmes is no stranger to the podium in disc golf but he certainly received a pleasant surprise when Sam Hancock (Rob Hancock's father) and Bruce McNaughton presented him with, not only the Perpetual Shield for winning the event, but also with AFDA's prestigious Rob Hancock Award, for outstanding contributions to disc sports. All who attended commented on what a moving occasion it was to see Kim receive the award. His acceptance speech, where he thanked his 'long suffering disc golf widow, wife Jennie', will not be forgotten.

Ace Race (22nd October, 37 players)- The PDGC ran its sixth Ace Race this year and another new Tournament Director, Big Al Robertson stepped up for this event. The Ace Race is a Discraft tournament where players use a prototype disc and throw on a shortened course with the aim of getting the most Aces. This year we had an exciting finish with Rob Masters winning from Mike Wombell in a sudden death playoff, sealing the win with an ace.

Kim Holmes Trophy (13th November, 24 players)- The Kim Holmes Trophy is a team format event pitting the PDGC against the Mundaring Disc Golf Club, this year being the events second year. The PDGC elected to play away from our home course and instead chose Curtin Uni for the event, and in a close finish the PDGC team prevailed.

Other activities. The club also assisted with the DiscGolfPark Australia Come and Try Day at Taylor Reserve on the 17th of September and volunteered for WA Telethon Home Auction on the 16th of October. We had two representatives, Dave Bandy and Kingsley Flett selected to travel to Canada as part of the four-person Australian team for the inaugural World Disc Golf Teams Championships. We have also secured a long-term sponsor in Sportspower Kingsway, who stock a good range of disc golf equipment in a shop five minutes from our home course.

2017 Nationals. Planning has already begun for our hosting of this event next year. We hope you can all make it over next year for the 2017 Aussie Disc Golf Championships in Perth, we'll do everything we can to make sure you have a great experience.

Mundaring Sporting Club

It has been a year of consolidation for Mundaring in 2016. A change in presidency and an increased level of community involvement have underpinned an influx of new members this year. It has been great to see newer players get involved at club level. Heading to in to December, club membership has risen to over 20 paid up members. We have hosted a number of stand-alone tournaments this year, including the Dude Pro, Icebreaker and Okthrowberfest events – averaging over 25 people per event. This is in addition to our new League format, which will deliver our first-ever Club Champion.

As well as hosting tournaments and the League competition, the club has been working in the community to promote the sport. We have held two ‘Come and Try’ days, showcased the club and the sport at the Mundaring Village Community Fun Day, held an induction day for the Mundaring Visitor’s Centre, hosted instruction clinics with local school groups and hosted a leg of the Starlight Foundation’s Charity Adventure Race – introducing some 200 people to the sport during the course of one Saturday morning. Information packs and scorecards have been distributed to both the Visitor’s Centre and the local newspaper, to be distributed to interested members of the public. The club also participated in Golf Australia ‘s Golf Month initiative - opening up the course to the public to participate in disc golf and find out more about the club.

We have introduced a new club award to stand alongside the Club Champion: The Golden Wings Award – awarded to the club person of the year. The inaugural winner of this award is Jason Browne. Jason’s photo will be placed on the club’s honour board, alongside the yet-to-be-crowned Club Champion, the Club Course Record Holder (Chris Finn) and the reigning Aussie Open Champions (Paul McBeth and Valarie Jenkins).

The next event on the horizon is the 2017 Aussie Open next January, and we are hard at work making preparations for this event. We are looking forward to the prospect of having the best players in the world return for a Disc Golf World Tour and PDGA Major, hosted by our club.

Kris Kohout

ACT State report

This past year was another great year for the ACT Disc Golf Club. We have seen a noticeable trend in the amount of people playing in the ACT which can be attributed to the clubs efforts in promoting the sport, making discs more readily available, and just having a larger presence in the community. There also has been some spill over from people discovering what disc golf is when they head down into the mountains and play at Jindabyne, Lake Crackenback, Adventist or the soon to be opened course in Thredbo; this area is becoming and will become a big draw for disc golfers into the future. Thus, we have people playing in the mountains and then finding out that there is a course also in their hometown of Canberra and they start to play here as well.

Eddison Park

Our only course in Canberra is going to have to be modified as the Cemetery has had funding approved to take over part of Eddison Park which will significantly impact several of the holes and baskets. Also, we have had a new fitness station installed in the park which impacts several holes as well. The club is currently looking at ways to redesign the entire course with the possibility of adding some additional baskets, tee signs, and getting a new course map up.

Grants New Course Update

The club has been in talks with the Department of Sports and Recreation and have been successful with getting a $3000 grant for boosting our presence with marketing materials such as banners, flags, gazebos, and some portable baskets and discs to be used for come and try events. This was very exciting to receive and will significantly help with making our events look much more professional. We have also been in talks about receiving funding for a new beginner friendly course in Belconnen which looks promising at this point.

Publicity

Using Facebook as a medium for promoting our club and getting information out to others has continued to work well with 150 new likes since the last year. We have also started up another Facebook group 'ACT Disc Golfers' with the aim to separate club related material and just provide a place for people to chat, ask others about going for a round, and allows people's posts to be more readily seen (as posts to the club page cannot be seen well by others and is often missed or difficult to access through a mobile device); with this in place, the club page is now more focused on providing club information including come and try days, league day notices and competition information.

We have kept our simple but effective webpage up to date with many new players finding it easy to get all the information they need when either just using Google to search for us, or by scanning the QR codes that are on the baskets at Eddison Park. The webpage also has a link to our ever expanding inventory of discs and this has enabled us to get more discs into more players' hands than ever before.

Tournaments and League

Our main tournament of the year, The Sizzler – ACT Open, again became our most successful tournament to date with over 40 players coming from far a wide. The comp was well received and well run thanks to numerous club members pitching in to ensure that the event went smoothly. However, we did have issues with too many backups due to our small course with overlapping fairways and only 10 baskets in play. In order to continue to grow our comp, the club will be exploring new areas for future comps as the current Eddison Park course just cannot handle that many players. Thus, 2017 will be played as a temporary 18 basket course at Weston Park in Central Canberra which is going to be awesome!

We also held our first Discraft Ace Race in October which saw the core group of members partake and whom all had a great time. Our monthly league day has continued to be successful with a growing base of players able to make it out. We have also held some weekday doubles rounds during the longer days of summer.
